A diagram illustrating the effect of `clearProperty` and `floatProperty` on the horizontal alignment of nested `div` elements. The diagram consists of three nested rectangular boxes. The outermost box is light yellow and represents the parent container. Inside it is a gray box representing a `div` with `HorizontalAlignment.LEFT` and `ClearPropertyValue.BOTH`. Within the gray box is a green box representing a `div` with `HorizontalAlignment.RIGHT`, `ClearPropertyValue.BOTH`, and `FloatPropertyValue.LEFT`. The text inside the boxes describes the alignment and clearing/float properties for each level.
